Best Practices

1. Title of the Practice: 'Student-Teacher: Care-Share Forum'

Goals:

- To monitor students.
- To encourage students to open-up with their teachers.
- To provide an opportunity to share their academic and personal problems with their teachers.

The Context:

- The Forum has a strong belief in saying "Helping others is helping us".

The Practice:

- All the faculty members of the Department shall be available to their students on a stipulated day and time for their assistance on mutually agreed basis. Students of different classes may meet any faculty member for any of their academic related problems, discuss with them informally, freely and frankly. Students who are more hesitant in regular classrooms can freely interact with any faculty member either individually or in groups. All the faculty members are easily and readily available to every student.

Evidence of Success:

- Students who are more hesitant in regular classrooms can freely interact with any faculty member either individually or in groups. All the faculty members are easily and readily available to every student. Students can get the feedback pertaining to their assigned tasks: preparing for seminar, writing assignments, projects, etc. Students of different classes can easily come together, talk together, listen together, undertake work together, learn together, discuss and finalize any of the Department related issues. Students can discuss any of their personal or study related problems with the faculty members and ask for their timely suggestion, help, assistance, remedy etc. This is a place where the student can independently discuss the contemporary issues related to their areas of interest.

Problems encountered and Resources Required:

- Students in the forum use to share the problems pertaining to the college including library facilities rather than subject specific problems.
- Resources required for conducting this activity: Classrooms

2. Title of the Practice: Look Equal Feel Equal

Goals:

- To bring equality among students.
- To lessen the burden of clothes on poor parents by introducing uniform for the students.
- To avoid the complexes among students.
- To avoid the entry of non-bonofied students in the class room or on the campus.

The Context:
- Students enroll themselves in the college to have better education. When it comes to mass education, it will be provided to the students irrespective of caste and creed. To avoid the inferiority complex among the students of the lower class and to eliminate the differences uniforms have been introduced.

The Practice:
- Uniforms have been introduced in the academic year 2014-15. The Uniform for Boys includes a pair of chocolate trousers and light pink colour shirts. For girls the uniform is light pink colour top and chocolate colour paijama with matching shawl. The students are allowed to wear civil dress on Thursday. The academic year 2014-15 saw the introduction of uniforms to college students in order to reduce the disparity among the students pursuing education in the college. The objective of introducing uniforms was, firstly, to enable the students to focus on their education rather than dressing, secondly, to reduce the class differences among students which would otherwise be evident, thirdly, to reduce the mounting pressure on parents because of the increasing demand for new dresses. This move was opposed with resistance from the students to wear uniforms. In spite of the initial resistance, the uniform was well accepted by the students and the students are wearing the uniforms without any hasitation.

Evidence of Success:
- The evidence of success is visible as the students are wearing the uniform on all working days and attend the programmes, exams and other college activities in the uniform without fail. Parents have indicated their satisfaction towards the introduction of uniforms as a welcome change.

Problems encountered and Resources Required:
- The major hurdle encountered was resistance from the students to wear uniforms and the color of the uniform that was introduced.
- In addition the quality of the uniform material and the appropriate tailor to stitch the uniforms were also part of the issue. As a part of the solution, the college communicated to the students through the induction programme and the uniforms were introduced in the college successfully.
